

PROMISES MADE

Promises made, for better or for worse.
It's a split decision, who's interest comes first.
Two desperate people, looking for the promised land.
No one knows why, though they try to understand.

Promises made.....No one wants to be alone.
Promises made.....Don't make this house a home.

She vows to love and honor, he promises to obey.
We forever hold our peace, there was nothing left to say.
Now they're the happy couple, to their family and friends, but, when the lights go out....That's where it ends.....

She said...
    "Step inside", said the Spider Woman to the Human Fly.
    "Don't be shy, come inside."
    "I'll feed your hunger, you fulfill my dream."
    "There's nothin' to fear, come over here, Boy!"

There's no way out now, it's written in stone.
No turning back, don't you dare disappoint this happy home
It's the last train outta here.
You say you'll never get another chance.
There's a very fine line between reason and romance.
She said...

    "Step inside", said the Spider Woman to the Human Fly.
    "Don't be shy, come inside."
    "I'll feed your hunger. You fulfill my dream."
    "There's nothin' to fear, come over here, Boy!"

Promises made....No one wants to be alone.
Promises made....Don't make this house a home.
Promises made....Promises made....

(We said we'd be together for no less than forever with those,)
    Promises made....Promises made....
(Do you remember all those nights we were together and those,)
    Promises made....Promises made....
(Now I feel so rejected . This is not what I expected, from those,)
    Promises made....Promises made....
(Do, do, do , do, do ...do you remember all those....Promises Made.)
